UCSC Credit Hour Policy

SR 760 does not specify a relationship between unit value and class contact hours. UCSC utilizes the following model: a five-unit course should generally have 31.50 contact hours over the course of the term—3.15 hours a week (195 minutes) corresponding either to two 95-minute meetings or three 65-minute meetings per week. A two-unit course should typically involve 14 hours per term, or approximately one 90 minute meeting per week, although time for 2- and 3-unit courses can vary, with "independent studies," by definition, allowing less contact time, and public colloquia sometimes involving more.
